

THE WITCH ON THE RIBERA

A long time ago, around the year 1930, there was a famous pirate named Peter. This pirate had a great ship that sailed many seas, he had a great crew. His pirate friend Jake was always with him. It is said that these two friends spent the day stealing ports and towns.

One day they arrived at the Ribera, a beautiful place, with a wonderful river, with different kinds of animals and a huge amount of savage plants. As usual, they were going to raid the town and leave. But just as they were getting off the ship they saw another ship in the distance. It belonged to Antoine, a French pirate who was an enemy of Jake and Peter.

They tried to dock the town of Moguer as quickly as possible so as not to cross paths with Antoine or his crew. But when Peter walked into a store at the corner's market, he fell in love with Olivia at first sight. A young woman about her age. Peter wanted to kidnap her, but Antoine came and wanted to kidnap her too. Olivia didn't want to leave with either of them, but she couldn't decide. The pirates decided that they would put up a fight and whoever won would keep all the loot and the woman.

The next day the fight was going to be made. Both pirates looked at each other, took their weapons, and while they were fighting each other, a person with a hood appeared. The person joined the fight and ended up killing the two pirates.

A fight like this hadn't been seen in years. Then the citizens wanted to know who the hooded person was. When they took off her hood, they realized it was Olivia. Then they said that because she was a woman she couldn't fight as well and they called her a witch. They held a trial and ended up burning it.

At present the legend has it that whenever an injustice is done to a woman, a silhouette appears in flames that helps the woman who is in danger. So be careful what you do.
